Curious God

In Scripture, God asks questions not because He doesn't know the answers, but for our benefit. God asks so we can reflect, learn and understand what we need to see.

Read This Week's Passage: Ezekiel 37:1-14

In the chapters before our passage, Ezekiel has foretold and then heard of the destruction and downfall of Jerusalem. Israel was God's people. They were given promises and called to show God to the world; now they are decimated. When have you experienced times where it looked like God's promises and plans have failed or fallen apart?

Read Ezekiel 37:3,11. When God asks the question, he doesn't say, yes or no, he says, God you know. What could this tell us about Ezekiel? How are we like Ezekiel when we are facing the death or loss of our hopes?

Read Ezekiel 37:4-10. God could have brought the bones to life on his own, but God asked Ezekiel to prophesy to the bones? What does this teach us about speaking God's words or prayer?

What are the dry bones you see in your life? What do you believe God would have you speak and pray over those dry bones? Have you felt like dry bones walking? Would you let your group pray for the breath of God's Spirit to fill you with life?

What else do you notice from this week's passage?

Curious God

In Scripture, God asks questions not because He doesn't know the answers, but for our benefit. God asks so we can reflect, learn and understand what we need to see.

Read This Week's Passage: Ezekiel 37:1-14

In the chapters before our passage, Ezekiel has foretold and then heard of the destruction and downfall of Jerusalem. Israel was God's people. They were given promises and called to show God to the world; now they are decimated. When have you experienced times where it looked like God's promises and plans have failed or fallen apart?

Read Ezekiel 37:3,11. When God asks the question, he doesn't say, yes or no, he says, God you know. What could this tell us about Ezekiel? How are we like Ezekiel when we are facing the death or loss of our hopes?

Read Ezekiel 37:4-10. God could have brought the bones to life on his own, but God asked Ezekiel to prophesy to the bones? What does this teach us about speaking God's words or prayer?

What are the dry bones you see in your life? What do you believe God would have you speak and pray over those dry bones? Have you felt like dry bones walking? Would you let your group pray for the breath of God's Spirit to fill you with life?

What else do you notice from this week's passage?

Week 6: Can These Bones Live?