Curious God

In Scripture, God asks questions not because He doesn't know the answers, but for our benefit. God asks so we can reflect, learn and understand what we need to see.

Read This Week's Passage: Jonah 3:10-4:11

Do you relate to Jonah's fumbling through his mission from God? Can you think of a time you ran the opposite direction from God?

What do you think about the idea that "God Runs After Runners"? Do you think it's true? Can you share about a time that it felt like God met you in your "running"?

Nineveh was the final capital of the Assyrian Empire, which conquered and exiled the northern kingdom of Israel. How does this shape your understanding of Job's anger? How does this change your view of God's question to Job?

Have you ever felt upset, afraid, or angry when God has nudged you towards building relationships with people (maybe even your "enemies")? What made you feel that way?

Is there someone you are angry with now?

Who might God be sending you to?

What else do you notice from this week's passage?

Curious God

In Scripture, God asks questions not because He doesn't know the answers, but for our benefit. God asks so we can reflect, learn and understand what we need to see.

Read This Week's Passage: Jonah 3:10-4:11

Do you relate to Jonah's fumbling through his mission from God? Can you think of a time you ran the opposite direction from God?

What do you think about the idea that "God Runs After Runners"? Do you think it's true? Can you share about a time that it felt like God met you in your "running"?

Nineveh was the final capital of the Assyrian Empire, which conquered and exiled the northern kingdom of Israel. How does this shape your understanding of Job's anger? How does this change your view of God's question to Job?

Have you ever felt upset, afraid, or angry when God has nudged you towards building relationships with people (maybe even your "enemies")? What made you feel that way?

Is there someone you are angry with now?

Who might God be sending you to?

What else do you notice from this week's passage?

Week 7:Is It Right for You to Be Angry?